Tribal Police... Dial 911

Francisco Alegria
Menominee Nation News

The Tribal Police Department has a new 911 calling system. Menominee Tribal Police Chief Mark Waukau stated the 911 system was in full effect on Thursday, August 26.

There are 2 types of 911 calling systems. An enhanced version which would automatically take the emergency caller's number and address down. Tribal Police have what is called the basic version. With the basic version the caller would have to reveal their number and address.

The new 911 calling system's radius is every exterior boundary of the Reservation. So what that means is that you can dial 911 from anywhere on the rez.

Mark Waukau stated, "We wanted to get this new calling system so the community would have better access to county and tribal police, EMS, and Fire Departments."

It was explained that the new system is easy to dial in emergency situations. Especially if there's a situation where your children would have to call the police.

911 is specifically to be used for emergency situations only. If you have a non-emergency situation, please call 799-3221

For more information, contact the Tribal Police Department at 799-3221.
